WEST COAST ITEMS.

—The Chilians are now talking of increasing the effective strength of the army. We have lost all hope of the recovery of Argentina and Chili; both are mad beyond all cure.

—Things seem to be mixed on the West Coast. Chilian telegrams state that the O'Higgins is at Coquimbo, while Buenos Aires advises state that she (if we may call O'Higgins a "she") is in the Straits landing artillery.

—A Lima telegram of the 14th says that no news have been received from Piura, where we presume the last revolution is located. Piura is in the extreme north, and the telegram says that the revolutionary movement originated in Guayaquil, Ecuador.

—It is reported from Santiago that the Chilian government has removed Barros Arana from the boundary commission. Barros Arana has been connected with the boundary surveys and negotiations for many years, and was looked upon by the Argentines as an obstacle to the peaceful solution of the dispute. Now let the Argentines recall Moreno, muzzle the Prensa, and suppress various other mischief-makers, and the quarrel will be ended in short order.

—The announcement that the Chilian congress has authorized the issue of $50,000,000 of notes to supply the cash requirements of the country has depressed the price of Chilian bonds, as such an issue is likely to have a very unfavourable influence upon exchange, and may ultimately increase the difficulty of the government in meeting the interest on its foreign debt. The five per cent. bonds of 1896 have fallen to 70. Argentine government securities have also been somewhat weak, in the absence of favourable news respecting the boundary difficulty. —The Statist, July 23.

—What is to be done about Chili bonds? It is a difficult question. A settlement of the boundary dispute would do much to restore confidence, as once the fears of war were removed, the government could curtail military outlay, and address itself to retrenchment and reform. The revenue for 1897 was about $5,000,000, and the expenditure $4,600,000. For the current year the estimated revenue is 12,000,000, including a surplus, and the expenditure $8,000,000. For 1899 the revenue should be $3,000,000, and expenditure 76,000,000. It is proposed to re-establish the duties on inheritances and donations, and to levy taxes on foreign insurance companies, tobacco, matches and spirits. Reforms will be introduced in the tariff for stamps, a saving will be made in the police administration, and an increase established on telegraphic rates. If only, therefore, the Argentine trouble could be speedily arranged, Chili bonds ought to look cheap. —Daily Mail, London.

—A merchant of Valparaiso says that Chili would have sold the celebrated O'Higgins to this country last spring if Argentina had been willing to sell a correspondingly formidable warship to us, but Argentina was afraid of offending the large Spanish colony in that country. Otherwise we might have taken a long step toward preventing wars between our sister republics by acquiring their means of fighting. The willingness of Brazil to sell us three men-of-war and a lot of torpedoes shows that she is impressed with the uselessness of spending money on a navy, and probably the two republics south of her feel the same way, but unfortunately they are at loggerheads over the ownership of the inaccessible summits of the Andes, and neither would disarm unless the other would. There is something very droll about keeping men-of-war to fight with the backbone of the continent, but if the contending countries cannot fight on the ground in dispute because much of it they cannot reach they must of course keep themselves prepared to fight on the sea for the ownership of the mountains. But Mr. Duval gives some very cogent reasons for thinking war is unlikely. Chili, however, has gone so far as to issue notes, fortunately drawing interest and more analogous to bonds than to currency, and she has just suspended specie payments for thirty days to check the tendency to export gold. The country has lately emerged from a cheap money era, and, having got back to the terra firm of the gold standard, we trust she is not going to undo the arduous labors of recent years as the result of which she extricated herself from the financial slough. —N. Y. Journal of Commerce, July 14.

RIVER PLATE ITEMS.

—The export of jerked-beef from Argentina to Cuba has recommenced.

—A Buenos Aires telegram says the Argentine minister at Santiago has asked if the report is true that Chili is fortifying the Straits of Magellan.

—The Argentine minister of foreign affairs has advised Peru that he made no reference to the Tuna and Arica question at the recent banquet in honor of Bolivia.

—We hear that a "simpatico" footballer and cricket enthusiast fell victim to the charms of a pretty young lady, during a recent visit to Brazil, the future bride being now on her way to England. Her father is or was until quite recently the manager of one of the most important railways in Brazil and has just retired after many years' residence in that country. —Times, Buenos Aires.

—A Buenos Aires telegram of the 14th says that Capt. Deluse, commandant of the Italian Legion, has received a letter from S. Paulo offering him one thousand Italian lire to serve in the said legion. Deluse has replied that he will send word in case he requires them.

—The Argentines are now after the "fanatics." According to a telegram of the 14th the Buenos Aires police have captured three Spaniards, who call themselves "Apostles of Christ," and who had gathered some 250 followers about them. The society is called the "Christian Confederation," and is noted for its disregard of cleanliness. It is said that a branch has been formed in São Paulo, Brazil.

—According to the Buenos Aires papers received this week, a report was current at the time they appeared that Dr. Pellegrini had negotiated in London for the Argentine government a loan of £2,800,000, one million to be paid at once, another million in November, and the remaining £800,000 in March. We are assured by those who are in the best position to be well-informed that there is no truth in the report, and we feel convinced ourselves that, while the foolish dispute between Argentina and Chili over the frontier is continued, no considerable amount of money will be advanced to either in the city. Neither the great financial houses nor the general public are disposed to afford the two republics the means of cutting one another's throats. Possibly the report originated in the placing here of Argentine treasury bills some little while ago; or it may be that an advance—though, we fancy, a small advance—for the payment of the coupon may have been made; or it may even be that some irresponsible person, wishing to make a profit, made some kind of proposal about a loan to the Argentine government. In any case, we think we are justified in stating that £2,800,000 have not been lent in London to Argentina. —The Statist, July 23.

THE TODDY-TREE.

Nature has her rum-shops, her saloons. She produces plants which devote themselves to the manufacture and sale of intoxicants. The South American toddy-tree is well known to naturalists. It is well known also to the South American beetle, the Oryctes Hercules. When the latter goes on a spree, he never goes it alone, after the unneighborly habit of the human drunkard. He collects his friends and acquaintances to the number of thirty or forty; the whole crowd run their short horns through the bark of the toddy-tree, revel in the outflowing juices, and, while incubated, are easily caught by the human natives.

The toddy-tree parts with its liquor free of charge. There are other plants which are less generous. They exact no less a penalty than the death of the unfortunate drunkard. And what do they do with the body? Strange as it may seem, they eat it. In this manner they obtain the food which nourishes them and sustains their healthful existence.

At the end of each of their long green leaves these plants have a pitcher-shaped receptacle. We might style this the growler; but it never needs to be rushed. It is always full of what with special appropriateness might be called bug juice—a watery liquor, sweet to the taste and embriating to the senses. Only in fine weather is the growler open for business. On rainy days it is firmly shut up to keep out the rain that would dilute and spoil the contents. Nature's saloon-keepers do not water their stock. —Lippincott's.

HERE are two capital cheque stories from Notes and Gold, the organ of the banker, or at all events, of the bank clerk. "I'm very sorry, miss," says the paying cashier, "but this is a crossed cheque, and cannot pay it over the counter." "Oh, is it, really?" replies the fair customer. "How tiresome! Then I suppose I shall have to come round the other side to get it." This forms a reminder of the other cheque story, which is that of a Presbyterian minister, who had, in his intense surprise and delight, received an unaccounted cheque from a charitable donor. "This cheque is to order, and must be endorsed," explained the paying cashier at the Highland bank. "Eh?" "Endorsed—across the back." "Oh, ay!" wrote, with the pen and all his soul the minister wrote, "I heartily endorse this cheque."

IN the south of Peru every facility appears to be given to commercial travellers. They are allowed to enter with their samples, on presenting through a responsible agent to the custom-house an official request to pass so many packages of samples. These are examined and valued by the office named, and then a bond is presented by the agent, who undertakes to pay the amount of the valuation of any of the samples that may be reshipped within the term specified, generally 90 days; this process will cost the commercial traveller from 10s. to £1, according to the number of packages he brings, and he is then free to go where he likes with his samples, without being obliged to give an account of them in any other part of the interior he may wish to visit. Of course, the responsible local agents before giving the bond to the custom-house must satisfy themselves as to the status of the traveller, who, in most cases, besides his business cards, brings a letter of recommendation to some known resident in the port; indeed, this is almost a requisite, and should not be overlooked by intending visitors. —Textile Mercury.

I KNEW THEM EYES WUZ ELLEN'S.

They driv' a kerridge to the door,
 An' out of it a lady got,
 All dressed in silks an' furbelows,
 An' walked right up to whur I sot.
 Sez she: "I come from Obedstown,
 I'm huntin' for a Cap'n Brown."
 I looked an' when her face I see,
 "Thinks I, "No, marm, you kaint fool me!"
 I knowed them eyes wuz Ellen's.

My darter, married twenty year,
 An' gone to live in Idyho;
 She'd growed an' changed; but then, law me!
 Queer ef a mother wouldn't know.
 Her hair was tetch'd a bit with gray,
 An' mebbly she wan't quite so gay;
 A leetle stouter in her size;
 Vit, as I looked in them blue eyes,
 I knowed them eyes wuz Ellen's.

An' so I riz right up at once.
 An' grabbed her close an' hilt her tight,
 An' she sez "Mar '" an' I sez "Nell!"
 An' then we hugged with all our might.
 Forten might ketch me on some things,
 Consid'rin all the change it brings.
 But when I looked I knowed her shore—
 I seen my baby's eyes once more—
 I knowed them eyes wuz Ellen's.

EMPEROR WILLIAM.

Poultny Bigelow writes for the July Century an article on "Ten Years of Kaiser Wilhelm." Mr. Bigelow says:

"It is one great source of the Emperor's power that he knows personally not merely all his brother sovereigns, but every man of official importance in his own country. There is not a province in Germany with which he is not familiar, and his memory for names and faces is so great that for him to see a man once is to know him for the rest of his life. In this knowledge of his country he surpasses any of his predecessors on the Prussian throne,
 and all of his contemporary sovereigns.
 It is safe to say that Queen Victoria knows less of Great Britain than her grandson knows of his country, and in the case of Russia it is equally true.
 This is not such a trifling matter as it might appear.

"In spite of much evidence to the contrary, the Emperor is not a tyrant, nor has he manifested a desire to wield power for the mere purpose of making other people uncomfortable. He takes a positive delight in hearing of good things said or done by others. He does not fail to read what is said against him.

"When the late William Walter Phelps was the American representative in Berlin, 'Mark Twain' happened to be in town. Mr. Phelps having informed me that he had taken no steps to let the Emperor know of this, I of course pointed out to our minister—what I knew to be the case—that the German Emperor knew by heart the works of our great humorist, and would be most happy of an opportunity to talk with him. Mr. Phelps, however, persisted in thinking that it was not his business to do anything in the matter, seeing that Mr. Clemens was not present in any official capacity. Next day I was leaving for America, but that evening I had an opportunity of telling the Emperor that Mark Twain was in town. The moment he heard this he clapped his hands at the good news, and called out to his wife, who was at the other side of the rooms: 'Auguste, Auguste, here is good news! What do you think? Mark Twain is in town!'— and then he eagerly inquired about him. But when he learned that Mr.

 Phelps had not seen fit to arrange a meeting at once, he frowned in a significant manner. Of course Mark Twain was immediately invited to meet the Emperor at luncheon, and both enjoyed the meeting.

"It would be, I think, within the mark to say that in the last ten years
 the Emperor has conversed at length with every eminent American or Englishman who has passed through Berlin.
 I have never heard of such a meeting
 but that the visitor has been strongly impressed by his imperial host's specialized knowledge. In the midst of the rush of festivities at Kiel in 1895, the Emperor found time to dine on board the flagship 'New York' of the American squadron. Her captain told me afterward that their imperial host stayed until 2 o'clock in the morning, and during his stay extracted from them every manner of information. He closed his visit by testing the capacity of the crew for manning ship and putting out fires at the shortest possible notice. When Mahan published his great book on the 'Influence of Sea Power,' the Emperor at once read it, and sent him a cordial telegram acknowledging the indebtedness of himself and his officers for the lessons taught therein. I have no doubt that the strenuous efforts now being made to strengthen the German navy have received great encouragement from the study of this American work.

"I have known few men so free from brag or hypocrisy as was this German prince when he ascended the imperial throne. On the Christmas immediately preceding the death of his noble father he wrote a letter to a friend three thousand miles away. I have no right to make this letter public, but shall be forgiven for this much: the writer dwelt earnestly upon the year that was closing, and particularly referred to the problems of the future, little dreaming that he was the one who would be called upon to assist in their solution. In this letter he confessed that the ambition of his life was to improve the condition of the working-people, to reconcile the rasping conflict between those who have and those who have not, and, above all, to make the Christian religion a real thing. He went on jokingly to lament that some of our American millionaires did not see fit to leave him legacies for this purpose; for he was, he said, always hampered for want of necessary funds."

THE FINANCIAL REPORT.

After a somewhat extended discussion of the present financial state of the country, the causes of which are known to us all as well as to the government, the minister addresses himself again to the subject of receipts, expenditures and deficits. It is noteworthy that he recognizes the evils of an excessive issue of paper money and its influence on present affairs.

In some preliminary remarks to his extended discussion, the minister shows that in the 67 years of its existence, up to and including 1889, the monarchy had 59 budgets voted, on which the deficits aggregated 758,661,147$419. For the eight years of the republic, not including the six weeks belonging to 1889, the aggregate deficits (which the minister does not give) were 353,239-

000557. As the minister very correctly says "the country greatly needs balanced budgets."

At the date of the revolution in 1890 the paper money in circulation was 183,867,254$500, which was increased to 439,614,276$500 in government issues and 345,344,330$500 in bank issues (total 784,958,606$500) at the end of 1897. The tabulated statement of the various issues and of subsequent redemptions, will be useful for reference purposes.

After discussing the various laws relative to taxing brokers, incomes, dividends, etc., the minister takes up a subject of special interest, that of "short appropriations." As it is a long-standing abuse, the budget committees finding it useful in their remarkable feats of balancing receipts and expenditures, it will repay perusal.

In discussing the Oeste de Minas question the minister states that a loan was effected in London in 1893 for this railway through the medium of the government, the company agreeing to deposit the net proceeds in the treasury in currency at an exchange of 200. The loan was for £ 3,700,000, and the net proceeds were £ 2,849,000, which produced Rs. 34,188,000$. The government guarantee conceded to the railway was 6 per cent currency on the amount of this loan actually on deposit, out of which it undertook to pay interest on the said loan, and to hand over to the company any remaining balance, or receive from it any deficit realized. The continued fall in exchange has produced unfavorable results for the company, interest on the loan abroad more than absorbing the 6% on the deposit, which in 1895 at 12 1/2d, represented only about £ 1,071,000. The complication was then brought before congress, the company asking to have its 6 per cent guarantee calculated in gold, and congress authorized the executive to either liquidate the account, or to take over the road. Nothing has been done, however, congress having failed to provide the necessary credits. The business is a complicated one, as the lines extend through the states of Minas Geraes and Rio de Janeiro, with guarantees from both, and has likewise a section guaranteed by the national government. These with kilometre subventions on some sections and a German loan of 9,607,342$ in gold, render it difficult to take over the property on satisfactory terms in view of the obligations the government would have to assume.

In relation to customs duties, it is difficult to understand the position taken. In his voluminous discussion the minister seems to favor collecting the duties in gold, and then at a fixed exchange rate of 12d. Then again he seems to favor protection and retaliatory rates.

The defence of the restrictions on the coastwise traffic also occupies much space, but the minister looks at but one side of the question—that of building up a national mercantile marine. The obstructions to industry and trade and the heavy cost to the nation of such a policy are not considered.

In his discussion of the necessity of statistical information, which is greatly lacking in Brazil, the minister gives utterance to chauvinistic opinions which will perhaps astonish some of those who recently joined in a manifestation to him. In discussing the need of statistics as an aid to national industries (p. 288) the minister favors the establishment of Brazilian houses in those countries which most largely import or receive Brazilian products, which houses shall be branches of or directly connected with the most important commercial houses here, through the medium of which these products can be exported. "In this manner," says the minister, "will end the monopoly of the exportation of our products exercised, exclusively, by foreign houses in Brazil, branches of the head houses situated in the American and European markets, which are exploring the commerce in the fruits of our labor (cultural) at prices dictated by the free and uncontrolled will and pleasure of parties interested in an ungovernable speculation." So, too, in the import trade. The minister quotes from the report of a predecessor to show that nearly all the articles imported are received by foreign houses established in Brazil, by whom all, or nearly all the profits are drained from Brazil and go "to the country of the merchants or speculators who operate in this branch of business."

GREAT BRITAIN is maintaining its lead in postal affairs. The idea of an imperial penny post has been strenuously advocated by Mr. H. H. Heaton, M. P., for many years, and it has at last been found practicable, and will be adopted at the beginning of the next financial year. The irony of the situation is that Mr. Heaton conceived the idea in Australia for Australia's benefit, and becoming an M. P. on his return to England made it his life work. Australia is the only British colony that is not included in the new arrangement.

SEA SICKNESS

ADMIRABLE RESULTS.

We are constantly receiving communications and testimonials similar to those given below. Scetchley truly prove the extraordinary efficacy of the Paulista remedy Nectandra Amara against the distressing sea sickness and the other nausea and complaints of the stomach and intestines so frequent during voyages at sea or on land. So well known are the results given by this new and wonderful remedy for all the sea sickness common in this life, that no traveller aware of its properties, should start on a voyage without providing himself with it as a preventive measure.

On the 9th ult., a merchant in S. Paulo wrote us as follows: "My late partner W. to whom I recommended the Nectandra for sea sickness, informs me that his sister has written to him from London saying she was astonished at the results she obtained from it on board ship."

On the 10th May last, the distinguished physician Dr. Ernani Pinto wrote us as follows: "The application and observations he had made on board the mail steamer and the other passengers treated with the Tincture of Nectandra Amara, 20. In 22 of the cases the result was complete and in the 4 others there was a decided relief. Cases of sea sickness, which had been treated with the same remedy, S. Ammonio, these may be mentioned the case of the Federal Senator A. A., attacked with exceedingly violent colic pains; the case of St. R. C. first class passenger from Pernambuco to Para, suffering intolerable agony from intestinal pains, from which he had been subject for a month before embarking; and the case of St. R. C. also a first class passenger from Para to Manaus, who was suffering from vomiting, colic and violent vomiting. In these cases as well as in the other few, the effect obtained was complete and rapid."

In view of these results, we are still further proof of the fact that for sea sickness and other intestinal troubles the preparations of Nectandra Amara can be easily employed with sure effect.

On the 10th October, 1898, the surgeon of the Army Medical Corps Dr. Henrique Mangen, wrote us as follows: "I certify that when on board ships of war, I have had occasion to use the Tincture of Nectandra Amara of Antero Leivas against cases of sickness, and always with excellent results. The foregoing is true on the faith of my word."

Capital Federal, Oct. 9th, 1898.—Dr. Henrique Mangen.

On the 17th August, 1898, Sr. Lacerda wrote us as follows: "Rio de Janeiro, 17th August, 1898. Mr. J. B. de Miranda.—According to my promise I have the pleasure to send you today the enclosing letter from Miss Richardson, the lady of whom I have spoken, who was so enchanted with the efficacy of the Nectandra Amara against sea sickness, and so kindly who told me on the recommendation of a well-known person well out of any hope of obtaining a good result, because she had never been relieved by any of the remedies she had employed against that malady, from which she had suffered every time she set foot on shipboard."

I have the honor to be your devoted servant, R. Amador Lacerda."

Miss Richardson's letter runs: "In testifying to the merit of Nectandra Amara as a remedy for sea sickness, I used it recently on a voyage and found it most efficacious."

R. Richardson.

On the 13th October, 1898, Dr. Paes Leme wrote to us as follows:

"Rio de Janeiro, 13th October, 1898.—My good friend Miranda.—For many years I have used your preparations of Nectandra Amara on the members of my family, and with the greatest advantage I have used it on the employees of our estate, who did not remedy with the efficacy of the Tincture for the nausea arising from the brusque suffer on our railways. I tried its power on a gentleman travelling from Serraria station to Jure de Fora, occasion to observe the same effects on him. I had of mine. The Nectandra Amara is already well re-utility by facts that I have seen with my own eyes, which prove without doubt that it has relieved many."

Ever yours.—Pedro G. Paes Leme

N. B.—The proprietors of the Paulista remedy Nectandra Amara issue a prospectus in three languages, PORTUGUESE, ENGLISH and FRENCH—to facilitate its use amongst natives and foreigners.

TROPICAL

DUNLOP TYRES

Mr. C. C. Gnapp (formerly of Bedford, and now in charge of Messrs. Walker's Cycle Works Department, Ceylon) writing to "Wheeling" says:

"The cushion tyre was predominant until 1896, but since the virtues of the Dunlop Tropical Tyres were proven it is quite something out of the ordinary to see a machine fitted with any other tyre. I must say that Dunlops seem to have gone to a very great deal of trouble to produce a tyre that will so satisfactorily withstand the effects of the damp and heat in the tropics, and the public here appreciate them by seeing that they get them."

TELEGRAMS OF THE WEEK

United States.

Aug. 10.—On the 8th inst. Mr. Cambon had an interview with President McKinley at which he delivered the reply of Spain to the American demands. Negotiations were continued up to the 7th inst., but their nature was not disclosed. It is, however, certain that Spain has decided to agree to all the conditions imposed while protesting against the severity and exorbitance of some of the claims. The President is said to have refused to entertain these protests at this stage. Should Mr. Cambon be authorized to withdraw them, hostilities will probably be suspended, otherwise Admiral Sampson's fleet will be sent to Spain.

Telegrams from Manila announce the arrival there of the third American expeditionary force and the monitor "Monterey".

Consul Willman is said to have died of dysentery at Manila. Cholera has broken out there.

General Merritt telegraphs from Manila that on the night of the 31st ult., the Spaniards made two night attacks on the trenches at Malate, but were beaten back by the Americans under General Greene. Getting under cover of a wood the Spaniards opened fire, but Greene and his men soon dislodged them. The fugitives under Aguinaldo refused to take part in the affray. The Americans lost 11 killed and 37 wounded. Merritt highly praises the courage and coolness of his men who for the most part received their baptism of fire there.

General Miles reports that he has now four columns advancing on San Juan de Puerto Rico, and that it is not necessary to send further reinforcements.

Commodore Sigbee of the "Maine" has been appointed to the command of the "Texas".

Telegrams from Puerto Rico give the news that General Wilson by a rapid flank movement supported by artillery invested Coamo which was taken after a brief resistance. The Spaniards lost 12 killed amongst them being Commandant Ilescas. The Americans took 180 prisoners, and the inhabitants of the place gave the victors a tremendous ovation.

Mr. Cambon telegraphed to Madrid this evening asking for authority to sign the protocol he had drawn up with the American government. The latter power requires definite answer yes or no before midnight on the 11th.

The sick and wounded of both sides are being shipped to the States simultaneously from Santiago. The scene is described as a most heartrending one.

Aug. 11.—At last the definite reply of the Spanish government has been received in Washington. Mr. Jules Cambon is authorized to sign the protocol he drew up in accordance with the American cabinet, and the signature must take place before midnight. Once the protocol is signed, hostilities will be suspended and a mixed commission named to formulate the final terms of peace.

General Garcia has taken Jibara in Cuba, and the Americans have taken Coamo in Puerto Rico, the Spaniards flying towards Ayboristo. Mr. Ramsden, the British consul in Santiago, died of fever in Klugston.

General Alagoz, the secretary of war, has arranged to send 100,000 more men to Manila, to reinforce the army of occupation there. This was found necessary in view of the desertion of Aguinaldo, who remained inactive at the battle of Malate.

Telegrams from Hong Kong assert that the officers of the Japanese naval division have offered to the Philippine revolutionary junta all the armament they want to defend their independence in case the Americans evacuate the islands. Following the offer, several Japanese ships of war have left for Manila.

Spain.

Aug. 10.—329 Spaniards sent home by the American government have been landed in Algeciras from the steamer "Hesperia". They were composed of the crews of the merchant ships taken by the Americans, who were imprisoned in Key West. They were in a state of great misery, and complain very bitterly of the bad treatment they received during the passage home.

An official communication to the press said that in two attacks on Guayama the Americans were repulsed, but the garrison of Coamo were obliged to evacuate that place owing to the numerical superiority of the Americans.

Immediately after the signature of the protocol, orders were sent to the different admirals and generals of the United States to cease hostilities. General Shafter had to report that 23 minutes before the receipt of his orders he had commenced the bombardment of Manzanillo. Admiral Sampson has been ordered to return with his fleet to New York, where tremendous ovations are being prepared in honor of himself, his officers and crews. There has been no other news of importance in reference to the war. All is apparently over save shouting.

HOW SANTIAGO SURRENDERED.

The War Department at Washington posted up the following dispatch:—

Headquarters, San Santiago, July 16.

To the Adjutant-General, Washington.

The conditions of capitulation include all forces and war material in the described territory.

The United States agrees with as little delay as possible to transport all Spanish troops in the district to Spain. The troops as far as possible to embark near the garrison they now occupy. The officers are to retain their side arms, and the men to retain their personal property.

Spanish Commander is authorized to take the military archives belonging to the surrendered district.

The Spanish forces known as volunteers, mobilized, and guerrillas who wish to remain in Cuba may do so under parole during the present war, giving up their arms.

The Spanish forces to march out of Santiago with the honors of war, depositing their arms at a point mutually agreed upon, to await the disposition of the United States. It being understood that the United States Commissioners will recommend that the Spanish soldiers return to Spain with the arms with which they made so brave a defence. This leaves the question of the return of arms entirely in the hands of the Government.

I invite attention to the fact that several thousands have surrendered—it is said the total will be about twelve thousand—against whom a shot has not been fired.

The return to Spain of the troops in this district amounts to above 24,000, according to the total.

(Signed) SHAFER.

The ceremonies amid which the Spaniards laid down their arms were very impressive. General Shafter and the American divisional and brigade commanders, together with their staffs, were escorted by a troop of cavalry. General Toral and his staff were accompanied by a hundred picked men and trumpeters. Both sides saluted with flourishes of trumpets. General S after returned to General Toral his sword, after it had been handed over to the American Commander.

The American troops were drawn up in line, in front of the trenches, as witnesses of the ceremony. General Shafter and his escort, accompanied by General Toral, rode through the city, taking formal possession at the Governor's palace. The ceremonies which accompanied the transference of the city to the Americans were elaborate and picturesque. Exactly at noon, the American flag was raised over the palace in presence of ten thousand men. A finer stage setting for such a dramatic episode, it would be difficult to imagine. In the street facing the palace stood a picked troop of the second cavalry with drawn sabres. Messed on the stone logging between the band and the line of horsemen were the brigade commanders of General Shafter's division, with their staffs.

Presiding against the verandah rails, crowding in every available window and door and lining the flat roofs, were the people of the town, principally women and non-combatants. As the chiming of the old cathedral rang out the hour of twelve, the infantry and cavalry presented arms. Every American uncovered. Captain McKittick hoisted the Stars and Stripes on the roof of the palace, and as the flag was unfurled the cavalry band struck up the stirring strains of the "Star Spangled Banner." At the same instant there was the distant booming of Captain Capron's battery firing a salute of twenty-one guns. When the music ceased, from all directions around the American lines came drooping the strains of the regimental bands and hoarse cheers of the troops. The infantry came to "order arms," and the moment after the flag was run up, while the band played "Rally round the flag, boys." Instantly General McKibben called for three cheers for the General, which were given with great enthusiasm, while the band played "Stars and Stripes for ever."

The ceremony over, General Shafter and his staff returned to the American lines, leaving the city in possession of the municipal authorities subject to the control of General McKibben, who has been appointed temporary military governor. The thirteenth and ninth infantry regiments remain in the city in order to enforce order. The Spanish forces will encamp outside the American lines until they embark for Spain.

Santiago itself presents a dismal sight. Most of the houses have been sacked, the stores are all looted, and nothing eatable can be had for love or money. In the streets, at the entrenchments, at the breastworks, at every hundred feet or so along the barbed wire fences are living skeletons of Spanish soldiers. The docks are crowded with starving refugees awaiting the arrival of the Red Cross Society's steamer "State of Texas".

Twenty thousand refugees are quartered at El Cancey; five thousand at Firmey; five thousand at Cubitas, Seblonito, and San Vicente. In one case, five hundred persons were crowded together in an insanitary dwelling. Poor wretches had been using river water in which all manner of filth floated.

THE AMAZONAS AFFAIR.

The press continues to publish interesting and curious telegrams on the situation in Amazonas.

The partisans of the two factions have been engaged, since the opening of hostilities, in agitating the waters of the political cesspool in which they wallow, and in displaying to the public gaze their vile and disgusting ulcers.

It is almost beyond belief that such dishonest and immoral conduct should now be mutually attributed to each other by men who linked until recently in the closest fellowship, exercised arbitrary and indisputable control over the riches and destiny of that promising state, and over the lives, the honor and the liberty of the citizens whose misfortune it was to inhabit it.

If we may credit the stories which they themselves telegraph to us, what they had established there was a veritable pig-sty of corruption.

And yet when in congress and in the press men of moral integrity like Ladario and Thau-depict in life-like colors the degraded condition to which the political and administrative affairs of that state had been reduced, they were assailed with slander and their protests and complaints were ridiculed and represented to be merely unworthy lamentations over the failure of their secret and illegitimate schemes of self-aggrandizement.

But the triumphs of imposture and falsehood are delusive and ephemeral. Sooner or later truth always comes forth to avenge the slander and punish the slanderers.

The eyes of the whole country are now fixed upon congress, which, it is hoped, will worthily respond to the appeal of the honorable President of the republic and find within the constitution a prompt and efficacious solution for the problem resulting from the truly anomalous situation of the state of Amazonas.

Either this must be done for the sake of the credit, the integrity and the prestige of the system of government that we have adopted, or we must openly confess that our institutions are nothing but an ostentatious and empty falsehood, without security for liberty, law, morality or justice, with no restraint on abuses and no correction for crime or for the utter disregard of all ideas of decorum, consistency, business and political and administrative rectitude, and that under their shelter tyranny may flourish with its train of corruption and vice. The Amazonas affair will be of little importance if it did not only the reputation and the credit of those who are now scandalizing the country with the indecorous display of their own vices, but what every one feels is that the stream of mire thence ejected over spreads the whole federation and threatens with total destruction the prestige of republican institutions.

THE RIO SPORTS.

We predicted a great success for the athletic sports this year and for once we were true prophets. With the opening of the new grounds at S. Domingos, athletics came to a say in Rio. Sports there have been before in a fitful way but now they have become an institution. Wind and weather permitting, the 15th of August each year will be a gathering day for athletes and all who like to see manly exercise. Yesterday initiated the series with splendid success. Everyone of the British and American colony who could be there was on the ground. In the ferry boats and leathery hands from 10 o'clock until 6, English was the predominant tongue. Business cares and household worries were set aside and nothing but happy faces were to be seen amongst those who went to see the sports so dear to our race.

The scene on the grounds was an exceedingly attractive one with the fair faces and tasteful dresses of the ladies who thronged the pavilion and occupied the chairs under the trees. Amateur photographers were there in plenty, but the gentleman who took a snap shot from the gate across the field must have had the best view. Amateur statisticians were also present, estimating the number of people present, and guesses ranged from 500 to 1000. One more practical than the rest counted the whole, and informed us that, excluding the military band, there were 561 people present, and 97 onlookers outside the fence. There is nothing like being exact, but the spectators looked to be at least a thousand. Amongst those present we noticed Mr. and Mrs. Andross, Mr. and Mrs. McNeill, Mr. and Mrs. McGibbon, Mr. and Mrs. Ralls, Miss Chewner, Mr. and Mrs. Sizoo, Mrs. Bigley, Mr. and Mrs. Beams, Mr. and Mrs. Gibaud, the Misses Mansell, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. Miss Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Holiday, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, Miss Matheson, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Benest, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, the Misses Flann, Miss Tross, Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer, Miss Ziegler, Mr. and Miss Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd, Miss Young, the Misses Wilson, Miss Bagley, Miss Sheppard, Mr. and Mrs. Nicolls, Mr. and Mrs. Key, Mr. and Mrs. the Misses Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Cox and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Butcher, Mr. and Mrs. Bunn, Mrs. Leuzinger, Miss Matzenbecher, Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie, Mr. Knight, Dr. Hastings and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Finlay, Mr. Lucas and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pullen and family, Messrs. Quayle, Tyer, Wicks, Blake, Crauford, Lums, Francis, Crumack, De Stone, Benn, Whyte, Weigall, Mawson, Murray, Block, Ridgeway, Roberts, Davy, Lynch, Santos, Dickson, Tross, Hubert, Rev. I. Crawshaw and a number of others whose names we were unable to obtain. A pleasing feature was the number of Brazilian families present, who seemed to thoroughly enjoy the sports.

All the events took place with characteristic punctuality under the skilful superintendence of Messrs. Wheatley and Unwin who seemed to be doing everything everywhere, arranging races, helping Mrs. Benest with the tea, doctoring blown competitors and standing drinks to a parched public. At 11 o'clock the first heat in the 100 yards was run, resulting in a victory for C. Robinson with N. Jackson a good second, Matheson and Do Couto took first and second places in the second heat. The final which was run some two hours later was a most interesting race. Do Couto led until the last few yards, when Matheson came through cleverly and won by inches from Do Couto, with Robinson a very good third. The time was 11½ seconds, which though poor time in comparison with the record of 9½ seconds was yet good considering the heat of the day, and the obvious want of training amongst the competitors. R. Robinson took first prize for throwing the cricket ball 87 yards and his brother C. Robinson secured the second. The order was reversed when the result of the long jump was declared, C. Robinson taking first prize with a jump of 17 feet 8½ inches, and his brother being second. The 220 yards race was a well contested one. Matheson got a strong lead and kept it until the straight was reached, when Matheson put on a spurt and passed him in fine style, winning a splendid race by 3½ yards. H. B. M. John came in a good third. In the mile bicycle race, Lloyd led the first two laps when Reeves passed him and took a good lead, Lloyd being second and Munge, going easy with good judgment, third. In the last lap Munge let himself out, overhauled Lloyd, and passed Reeves, winning a masterly race by about 30 yards. Great credit was also due to Reeves for his fine performance as he only consented to run at the last moment without practice to make the race more interesting. The high jump was a closely watched event. Jackson, Do Couto and C. Robinson tying at 4 feet 9 inches. Peter started, and they were all together until the last ten yards when Castrup came right through and passed the ribbon three yards ahead of young Do Couto. The 120 yards hurdle race when first tried resulted in a bad start, but on being run over later on was won by Do Couto, the time being 19 seconds. The race for girls under 14 was a pretty event, and was neatly won by Miss Corina Cox closely followed by Miss Evelyn Robinson who came in a good second. In the quarter mile, Murry jumped off with the lead, closely followed by Weigall who, however, fell off at about half way, allowing Murry to win hands down in easy style by some 15 yards. Reeves and Robinson, on whom the strain of the day seemed beginning to tell, stopped. Murry's time was 59 seconds. There were six starters in the married men's race, which was a particularly good one. Lloyd won a good race by two yards, Roberts being a good second, and all the others finished close up. Putting the weight another well contested event, in which Keewon a highly popular victory with 35 feet 2½ inches. Blake being second with 29 feet 5 inches. Murry again scored a first prize in the half-mile flat race. Murry finished all the way until he came to the straight when Murry put on a spurt and passed him with plenty in hand, winning a hard race by 6 yards. A neat piece of running was done by O. Cox who beat M. Fra on the post for second place. Cox's judgment was at fault on the second round and did not sport in time. The race was won in 2 minutes 25 seconds. The sack race was won by Lloyd with R. Robinson a close second. This and the tug of war which followed was not well seen owing to the excited spectators being too close to the contesting parties, crowding them unduly. The flag and heat of the day were evidently taking too much out of the teams in the tug of war, and the shouts of "Pull Dick!" "Pull Wheatley!" "Lie down to it!" were not sufficient to put strength into the tired men. Young Dick Robinson sunk exhausted, but willing hands, sympathetic hearts and a robust constitution brought him round. In the consolation race, Gibaud came in an easy first with Cox second. The whole of the programme was gone through English time, and at 4.20 p. m. as printed Mrs. G. E. Cox began the distribution of prizes after a short, bluff and hearty speech by Mr. Wheatley who promised on behalf of the committee that good as the beginning was, the sports on excellent succeeding year would be better. Two pretty incidents marked the distribution of prizes. Mr. Cox with grace and dignity presented all the prizes as Unwin called them out, but when her own little daughter came to receive the first prize for the girls' race, the fond mother bent and kissed her. Mrs. Robinson, too, received the many prizes won by her younger son, and looked as proud of her boys as ever did the mother of the Gracchi, whose children were her jewels.

The first sports of the Rio Athletic Club were a decided success from start to finish, and with the opportunities for practice now afforded are bound to be improved as years roll by. The committee, Messrs. R. A. Brookings, N. W. Jackson, P. C. Morris, worked hard for a success. Messrs. G. H. Unwin and H. L. Wheatley were untiring in their efforts. Messrs. A. S. Rakes, E. A. Benn and E. P. de Saone proved excellent judges, as did Messrs. G. E. Cox and H. A. Murray as starters and Messrs. C. Block and T. D. Bunn as timekeepers. The stewards, Messrs. T. C. Jackson, E. B. S. Benest, D. Roberts, F. S. Yonle, J. S. Keogh, A. F. Tyler, H. P. Smith, H. J. Reeves and C. Jackson, quietly pervaded the place and saw to every one's comfort. Lost but not least by any means, Mrs. Benest and other ladies in Netherby contributed largely to the enjoyment of a thoroughly enjoyable day by providing tea and cake for the lady visitors.

We were specially informed, that, like the whole soulful, ardent sportsman and good fellow that he is, Mr. H. L. Wheatley has presented thirty important races to the new grounds which will considerably aid to the new emblematic. They consist of parades, Pulling and chaps de sol.

RIO DE JANEIRO, AUGUST 16th, 1898.

THE best and most important item of news of the past week was that which announced the signing of the protocol providing for a treaty of peace between the United States and Spain. According to the telegrams the war has lasted 120 days and has cost the United States a million dollars a day, and Spain has not been asked to repay the expenditure. This is another example of the generosity to a vanquished foe of which we spoke in a previous issue. Spain and her friends may not appreciate this, but were the United States to insist on indemnification, as any victorious European power would have done, the burden would have been a crushing one. It may be called a mistaken generosity, but the fact remains that the United States has shown no wish to humiliate Spain or to cripple her recovery. The war was waged to liberate Cuba, and it ends with the expulsion of Spain from Puerto Rico as well. How the Philippine question is to be settled no one knows, for the terms of the protocol have not yet been made public. It is a matter of profound satisfaction that this unfortunate war is over. It has been a disturbing factor in the commerce of many other nations and it has caused widespread prejudice. This perhaps could not be avoided. But now that it has ended, we may hope to see an improvement in commercial conditions everywhere.

THE scarcity of water in this city is beginning to excite grave apprehensions. The inconvenience and even the suffering caused by a failure in the water supply might be borne with a certain amount of stoicism, for as a rule the calamities which men are called upon to endure are borne with courage and fortitude. But behind this there stalks the plague. When the greater heat of summer comes the foul drains, filthy streets and unclean dwellings will surely breed fever, and then the calamity will be one to be feared. Nothing is to be gained by concealing the situation and shutting our eyes to the danger. The plain truth is that this city is indescribably dirty, and that its sanitary condition is of the worst. The authorities have been negligent and have made little or no effort to abate the unsanitary nuisances which abound here. The result is that we have had yellow fever all through the winter, and that it exists in every part of the city. The cortijos where foreigners live are full of it, and until recently very little effort has been made to improve the conditions under which these poor people live, and to stamp out the disease. It will of course be said that the warm winter and the scarcity of water are the principal causes of this unfortunate situation, but this should have stimulated the sanitary authorities to greater exertion. But what have they done? Practically nothing. When a death from yellow fever occurs, they send some employés to disinfect and close the room—and that is all. We know of instances where they have allowed the worst of sanitary conditions to continue for months, without even a word of warning. And as for the water supply, it is still sufficient, after months of drought, for our principal needs were it properly distributed. What is wasted would give every one a liberal supply. But negligence and corruption have had their sweet will in this public service also, and while Dr. Fulano has water in abundance and to waste, his next door neighbor can not get enough for a bath. In some streets water is turned on for fifteen minutes in the morning, in others it runs for an hour or two, and in others for half the day. In some of the tenements where laundry work is done, the taps are rarely closed and the water runs to waste. Then, too, there are scores of industries here using steam and gas motors which use an enormous quantity of water, much of which could easily be substituted by water taken from drive wells. This water may be brackish and unfit for household purposes, but it will certainly do for making steam and for cooling the gas motors. In spite of the drought and the unseasonable heat, there is much that can be done to better the situation and to ward off the threatened epidemic, and unless this is done the responsibility for what happens will rest very largely upon the shoulders of the officials.

We deeply regret to note that, according to Professor Mommisen, the British empire is to be divided up between France, Germany and Russia. The ordinary observer doesn't see it, of course; but the Professor is a profound historical student and does see it. But there is no need to worry about it, perhaps, for the transformation will not take place this year, nor even next.

ON the day of the banquet to the minister of finance, the Jornal do Commercio began to publish extracts from his annual report just issued from the press. But the publication went no further, much to our surprise and bewilderment. We can now fully understand why the Jornal discontinued the publication of these extracts, and we are glad to acknowledge the good judgment of our neighbor in doing so. We began a resumé of the same report, and we find it the most difficult statement to summarize that we ever encountered.

We desire to call the attention of the postoffice to the inexplicable delays which occurred last week in the distribution of the mails. On Tuesday and Wednesday there were mails from Europe, the River Plate and the United States, and yet these mails were not all distributed until Saturday. We had Buenos Aires and New York papers put in our box on the last named day. This certainly is inexcusable. The building is crowded with clerks, who have time to gossip, smoke and to watch for persons receiving certain mails to beg for the used postage stamps. If their time were properly employed they could easily distribute every mail on the day of receipt, instead of taking two, three and even four days for it. It is discreditable to the postoffice that such delays should occur.

We are now most reluctantly compelled to believe that the alleged conspiracy against the President and the assassination of Marshal Bittencourt on November 5th last, are all pure fictions. And equally fictitious also was the alleged assassination of Col. Gentil de Castro on March 8th of the same year. All the persons alleged to have committed the last mentioned crime have been triumphantly acquitted, and of those accused of complicity in the crimes of November 5th, the military men have been unanimously acquitted, and the members of congress have been shielded by the sanctity of their parliamentary immunities. A few civilians now remain to be tried, but as they can not be more guilty than their privileged companions, they too will be acquitted and exposed to our admiring gaze as good and true men. As no one was killed, and as no one conspired, the public has been outrageously victimized, and the President is guilty of a monstrous crime against us. He has deceived us and has made us ridiculous. Had there been murder committed justice would have punished the criminals. But justice acquits the accused and holds them up as victims of a cruel persecution and slander. And can we doubt the infallible decree of justice? Never! Then let us have the President impeached. And let us have statues erected to the men whom he wronged, so that we may know that there is still virtue in this poor sinful world and that justice is still strong enough to protect it.

THE Buenos Aires Herald falls foul of a recent article of ours in which we said: "The mania for increasing the navy continues at Buenos Aires, where purchases of new ironclads and transports are reported. It is worse than folly, for the Argentine is the worst possible kind of a sailor and will never go to sea. If he can avoid it. The country will soon be in the predicament of having vessels for which she has no sailors."

Our esteemed contemporary pitifully remarks:

"—This is simply nonsense. An Argentine fisherman is as good a sailor as a Brazilian and showed himself in our little war with Brazil to be a capital one. We advise the Rio News to send a representative to rough it on our South coast and see how Argentine sailors can handle a leaky tub of a government transport or a fifth-rate coast lighter in an Antarctic storm. Even were it true that there were no Argentine sailors, we have hundreds of old English, Scottish, Danish, American and Greek, not to count Malay sea-dogs and dogs-of-war who love Argentina and would flock to its defence in case of danger. Old Brown was quick enough in finding both natives and foreigners, who whipped the Brazilian slave-nursed crews very thoroughly."

Our colleague misses the point. We never dream for a moment of setting up the Brazilian as a typical sailor, but he is better drilled now than the feather-bed and sometimes shaded sailors who spend such long periods each year in the docks at Buenos Aires, whatever he may have been in the "little war." Our representative learned how to appreciate a true sailor in the harbors of Portsmouth and Plymouth, and on the high seas, and knows the Argentine south coast from the Plate to Bahia Blanca, and the Straits of Magellan better than the Herald does, having been over it more frequently. We did not know that a fisherman was a ready-made man-of-war's man before or at least not since the days of wooden ships and press gangs. We did not know handling a leaky tub of a government transport or a fifth-rate coast-lighter in an Antarctic storm were qualifications for a seaman in a battleship. We did not know the polyglot crew specified were Argentines, and we know no more than the Herald does of what they would do, but can only judge by what they do do. We do know however that "Old Brown" was no Argentine, but came of the fighting race that gave a Kelly and Burke and Shea to the navy that whipped Argentine kin at Cavite and Santiago, that gave John Barry, as America's first commodore, that has given commodores and gunners from Barry to Simpson. The Irish in the Plate outnumber all the others, but the Herald studiously leaves them out. We do know that the present Brazilian sailor is smart and well trained. And we do know that throughout its history, the Brazilian navy has never yet produced a Rosales. Hemos dicho.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES

AUG. 8.—Senate.—Senator Bernardo de Medeiros made an aggressive answer to the attack on him in the Jornal do Commercio. He insinuated that the Jornal had made between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 out of the funding scheme.—Chamber of Deputies.—Deputy Sabra, in answer to a speech of Deputy Barbosa Lima, defended President Prudente de Moraes from the charge of being a tyrant. A ferocious tyrant, who governing the state of Pernambuco, he said, had been the deputy who made this charge against the President. "I am not accountable for an insult for my acts," exclaimed Deputy Barbosa Lima. Deputy Sabra then stated that he would undertake to prove that Deputy Barbosa Lima had also been an insurgent. As for himself, he had never been untrue to those whose uniform he wore—he had never stooped to be a parasite in the gallery, while among the deputies the discussion became so violent and disorderly that the chair suspended the sitting. There was read a message from the President of the republic submitting to the consideration of congress the telegrams which he had received in regard to the state of affairs in Amazonas. Deputy Belisario moved that a special committee should be appointed to report on the subject.

AUG. 9.—Chamber of Deputies.—Deputy Belisario's motion for the appointment of a special committee to report on the state of affairs in Amazonas was adopted by vote of 65 to 52. Deputies Erico Coelho, Cassiano, Serzedello and Augusto Severo refused to serve on the committee.

AUG. 10.—Chamber of Deputies.—In the midst of a heated debate Deputy Sabra exclaimed, in reply to an interruption by Deputy Glycerio:—"I have been an insurgent, but I have never been a murderer!" There ensued a scene of confusion and disorder, during which the president abandoned his chair and the sitting was suspended. The affair seemed at one time on the point of resulting in fistfights; but finally a semblance of order was restored and the proceedings recommenced. Then there was a long wrangle, the opposition deputies asserting that Deputy Glycerio had been called a murderer and insisting on a retraction. Deputy Sabra made explanations which were accepted by the chair, but were not considered satisfactory by the opposition deputies. Finally Deputy Glycerio rose and, saying that he had been insulted and had been unable to obtain redress, left the chamber followed by his friends.

AUG. 11.—Senate.—The senate met in executive session for the purpose of taking action on appointments of supreme judges and transacting business with foreign countries. It was resolved to recommit the report of the respective committee. In open session the senate discussed the proposed appropriation of 90,000 in gold for expenses with the Amazon boundary question. Senator Lauro Sodré, who spoke first, alluded to the silence of President-elect Campos Sales when the President of the French republic said in his presence that the question was not worth the ink that had been consumed in writing about it. The debate then took a wide range and the general policy of the future President was fully discussed.

PROVINCIAL NOTES

—The cruiser Benjamin Constant has arrived at Pará, where the officers and men have had a very cordial reception.

—The effort to unite the opposition elements in Rio Grande do Sul have failed. It was an attempt to do the impossible. While Barros Cassal lives he will certainly form a party all by himself.

—The Santos fire company has lately received ten Comblin rifles, 50 calibre byonets for the same, and 50 cartridge belts. Evidently the Santos firemen are to extinguish fires with firearms, rather than with water.

—It is stated that Lieut. Gov. Ramalho paid Dr. Gouveia Filho, the health inspector of the port, 50,000 francs to keep Filoto from entering Minas. Evidently Ramalho considers Filoto a very dangerous microbe.

—Filoto is preparing for the worst. He has retained a lawyer to defend him from prosecution for any ordinary or political crimes with which he may be charged. He is doubtless acquainted with the weak spots in his armor.

—The executive committee of the federalist party in Rio Grande do Sul declares that it will support the government of President-elect Campos Sales if he follows the policy adopted at present by President Prudente de Moraes.

—It is to be hoped that there will be some one sufficiently public spirited to bring a suit against the robbers that have devastated the state of Amazonas and make them disgorge their ill-gotten gains. It has been a very large "steal."

—The São Paulo state government has recently refused to grant the request of Messrs. A. Florita & Co. for permission to substitute Italians for the balance of the Austrian immigrants which they have agreed to introduce. The São Paulo authorities are quite right. It is not only desirable to maintain the contract, but it is good policy to insist upon the introduction of nationalities other than Italian.

—It is stated that Gov. Filoto will be indicted before the Amazonas state assembly for various scandalous abuses of power, among which is the acceptance of 100,000,000 from the grantee of the Mundos port works. As the grantee is said to have paid out 700,000 for the indemnity recently paid him, it would be interesting to know what part of it went to Vice-Gov. Ramalho. Amazonas is governed by a fine lot of patriots, surely!

—A Pelotas telegram of the 11th inst. states that the federalist and liberal parties in Rio Grande do Sul have not been able to arrive at an agreement. It appears that the liberal leaders, whose following is very small, wished to impose terms involving a sacrifice of political principles. These terms the federalists very properly refused to accept. It is to be regretted that a party calling itself liberal should by its intolerance prevent the union of the opponents of the illegitimate and despotic sway of the castilians.

—Telegrams from the north state that the irrepressible Sant'Anna Nery left Pará on the 10th for Europe. He had just come from Minas and is charged with important commissions by the new state government, one of which is to place a loan of £ 2,000,000 sterling abroad. Another commission, for which the state government of Amazonas is said to have given him 40,000 francs, is to publish in Lisbon a book upon the illegalities committed by the dictatorial government of Prudente de Moraes. Such a book would be a climax in a career of which even his most intimate friends can say nothing good.

—Among the passengers arriving at Pará from Minas a few days ago was Sant'Anna Nery, who was distinguished last November by being arrested and sent to Fernando de Noronha as a dangerous character. After his liberation he made his way up to Amazonas, and if the truth were known he has had not a little to do with the recent political agitations there. Although he had 40,000 francs of public money in his pockets, he took pains to announce that the Amazonas legislature will prosecute Filoto and his chief of police Guido de Souza for corrupt use of the public funds. He says that Guido spent about 300,000 in two years on the secret police.

—A letter from Paracatu, Minas Gerais, an interior town of considerable importance, located on one of the branches of the Rio S. Francisco in the western part of the state, says that provisions have become excessively dear in that place. Prices have never before been as high as they are now. Beans sell for 1500 per litre, rice for 1500 a litre, pork for 2000 a kilo (it is a hog-producing district), sugar 2800 a kilo, manioc flour 10000 to 12000 an alqueire of 32 litres, and other articles in the same proportion. It would seem that the agriculturists in this vicinity give their sole attention to stock-raising, and do not produce foodstuffs sufficient for their own consumption.

—After 11 months' imprisonment of Major Barreiros, ex-director of the penal colony of Dous Rios, accused of the embezzlement of the sum of 200,000, the sectional court of the state of Rio de Janeiro has failed to bring in a bill of indictment against him.

—Our many readers in Morro Velho and São Paulo who have known and esteemed Dr. W. London Strain, and who remember the kindly old gentleman, his father, who was here a few months back, will be sorry to read the news we find in the São Paulo Southern Reporter of 21st July, which runs as follows: "Mr. John Strain, coal merchant, died suddenly at his residence, Croft House, at an early hour on Saturday morning. Deceased had not been in very good health for some time, but was able to attend to his business, and on Friday night he retired to rest as usual about half-past ten. He turned suddenly ill about midnight, and expired in about an hour. Mr. Strain came to São Paulo about sixteen years ago from Elstock, Wales, where he was a colliery manager. Since that time he has been in business for himself. Only a month ago he returned from an eight months' tour in Brazil, where his younger son is in practice as a physician and who accompanied him home for a holiday. The deceased gentleman was in his 64th year."

—Gov. Filinto Pires has been having an interview with the Journal do Commercio correspondent at Pará, and has of course been telling tales against his enemies who have usurped his place and perquisites at Manaus. He says that he left 8,500,000 in the state treasury when he passed the government over to Vice-Governor Ramalho. All this has been "absorbed" by 3,500,000 with the acquisition of the electric light undertaking, 1,500,000 with the indemnisation claimed by Manoel Felício for violent acts committed by Gov. Eduardo Ribeiro, and 2,700,000 for the reversion of the port improvements contract. He says that the contractor brought 1,000,000 of this indemnity to Pará, where, on being counted in one of the banks it was found to be 12,000 short in each package (caixa). The balance of the indemnity (1,700,000) was distributed in Manaus. He likewise said that there were already five functionaries in Pará on commissions for the Amazonian government, three of whom are bound for Europe. The situation at Manaus is certainly full of that picturesque liberty which congress so highly appreciates.

SANTOS ATHLETIC SPORTS.

We were pleased to receive the following telegram yesterday from one of the keenest sportsmen in Santos:

"Sports held yesterday (Sunday), great success. Full report for next week's issue."

Bravo Santos? That is sportsmanlike and businesslike. We have already been favored with a copy of the exceedingly neat programme issued by the committee, from which we saw that all the events were likely to be hotly contested, and we are heartily glad to hear that the day proved a great success.

RAILROAD NOTES

—Three of the Central railway workshops were unable to do anything on the 11th for lack of water. Why could not the railway officials put down two or three "drive wells" for the supply of their boilers? Surely, the expense would not be serious, and the supply from that source should be abundant.

COFFEE NOTES

—Some time ago the Congo authorities sent home samples of two coffees growing there: the one was pronounced of little value but the other got a favorable report as a fine coffee closely allied to "Ceylon" and well worth cultivating. It now turns out that the latter was introduced by Mr. Vanderpoorten of Ceylon, on his visit to West Africa and, especially the Congo. It seems that the planting of this coffee has been freely extended and that it grows well; but nothing is said whether it is affected by the fungus disease.

—If any of our coffee planting readers would like to get a tip from the planters in Ceylon, we would recommend them to read the Coffee Planter's Manual of 1898, which is brought up to date by Mr. J. Ferguson, from the original manual compiled by Mr. A. Brown of Kandy and a number of other authorities. It contains summaries of discussions on manuring, chemical analyses of soils, agricultural experiments bearing on coffee culture, the enemies of coffee (white grub, leaf disease, etc.), estimates of crops and other practical subjects of interest to the coffee planter. The price is 1s. In the appendix will be found a good deal about machinery and other subjects of practical value to the coffee planter. Messrs. Crasley & Co. can procure copies of the work.

—With less than 15,000 acres of coffee—including Liberian as well as Arabian varieties—now on the Ceylon plantations, Mr. E. E. Green and the Planters' Association will agree with us that our interest in the "lady bird" experiment is limited, as compared with that of the Madras Presidency where, including Mysore, 200,000 acres of coffee are still reported. We would by no means discourage Ceylon sharing in the experiment. Quite the reverse. We think it would be the greatest pity in the world if some of the "lady birds" were not got to be tried in Pandolva under Mr. Green's direct care, as well as in Haputale, Badulla and other Vva districts. But at the same time, our outlay should be proportioned to our position as a coffee-growing country and our Madras neighbours will, from the above, be able to judge that our share should be in proportion to that contributed by Travancore which has close on 5,000 acres of coffee, while Ceylon has over 100,000 acres, and Mysore close on 100,000 acres. We think the fair way would be for the Ceylon proprietors owning coffee, as per Directory, to raise a certain sum; for this to be supplemented by the Planters' Association as a grant-in-aid; and then for the Ceylon government to grant an amount equal to the aggregate of the other two. Altogether if Ceylon gave Rs. 2,000,000 from the government and Rs. 1,000,000 from the P. A. funds and special contributions from Vva—we think it would do well. Of course, it may be argued that our interest is greater than the 15,000 acres; because if the lady birds proved a success, coffee might once again be planted. But with the present great depression in the coffee market we scarcely think there is encouragement in this direction. Nevertheless, we should feel very great regret if Ceylon took no share in a grant-in-aid experiment of the Madras coffee planters.—Ceylon Observer, June 11.

—The case of the crew of the s.s. Grelands is still pending in Buenos Aires, and according to our latest advices the seven men will be kept in prison. General indignation has been and is being felt throughout the whole Brazilian community at the detention of two officers and five men on the words of two drunken firemen who tried to murder. If the minister and counsel do not act, the case should be brought before the Foreign Office through a question in the House of Commons. A telegram to the M. P. for the port, or to Mr. Henry Lybouchere, would quicken Argentine police justice in a remarkable manner. We are glad to see the Times of Argentina championing the cause of the imprisoned men.

—The following passengers landed in Rio on the 10th inst. From the Royal Mail steamer Nile: From Buenos Aires: Messrs. E. Cuenca, W. J. Williams, T. Rowntree, Luis Mues, J. J. Hobbs, C. W. LOCAL NOTES

—The mass said for the soul of Gen. Gumsindo Saravia at the Carmo church last Wednesday was well attended.

—Rooms have been taken for President-elect Campos Sales, to count from the 22nd inst., at the Grande Hotel on Largo da Lapa.

—The senate has confirmed the changes in the diplomatic service made by the government during the interval since the last session of congress.

—On account of the prolonged drouth the archbishop of Rio de Janeiro has caused prayers ad pluviam pluviam to be said in the churches under his jurisdiction.

—Sinaiwy says that the only hopeful sign in the present drouth is to be found in the ability of our new breweries to meet the popular demand for good beer.

—The heat on Sunday last was very intense and continued on Monday, rather than on August. The present year has certainly been most unfavorable for this part of Brazil.

—The Polytechnic students have appointed a committee to determine upon a manifestation to the Brazilian singer, D. Clotilde Mangliano, who has lately been singing in São Paulo.

—If Deputy Coelho Cintra succeeds in increasing the number of military cadets to 1,600, what will Messrs. N. M. Rothschild & Sons think of the promises of retrenchment?

—The sectional court has sustained the government's action in closing the military club as a disciplinary measure. The club, we understand, will appeal to the supreme court. The government should also appeal to a court of dismissions from service.

—The military prisoners accused of having taken part in the plot to murder President Prudente de Moraes have been unanimously acquitted by the court-martial by which they were tried. The acquittal depends on confirmation by the supreme military court.

—We are indebted to the courtesy of the Ladies Aid Society for an invitation to attend the Masquerade and Tea in aid of the Petropolis Orphan Asylum on Friday night, of which an advertisement appears in another column. We shall certainly accept the invitation and attend.

—On Friday Mr. Bryan, the United States minister, visited the 9th regiment of cavalry. This regiment is commanded by Col. José Christiano, a non-political officer, who has the reputation of being one of the best disciplinarians in the Brazilian army. We learn that Mr. Bryan enjoyed his visit very much.

—Rio has been favored the past week with a visit by five representative Cherokees Indians, who came from the upper Tocantins via Ube-medim São Paulo to pay their respects to Father Prudente. They were clad in and arms. They called on the President bareheaded, though they were otherwise clothed like white men.

—It is freely asserted that torture was used by the police for the purpose of obtaining evidence in the case of the attempt on the life of President Prudente de Moraes. And yet we do not hear that any steps have been taken for prosecuting the authorities responsible for such barbarous and criminal conduct. This is, certainly, very disheartening.

—We had a visit yesterday from Mr. Frank G. Carpenter, the American newspaper correspondent whose fame is world wide. His stay in Rio will be short as he intends to gallop all over the country and describe it. "A chief's among us takin' notes" with a vengeance, 'an' faith he'll print it." Mr. Carpenter is the guest of the American minister during his stay here.

—The present chamber of deputies, utterly devoid of prestige and evidently incapable of performing the legislative work required of it, has now reached the state not far removed from anarchy. It is to be regretted, we think, that there is no constitutional provision permitting the constituencies to replace at once these inefficient representatives with successors who offer some probability of being useful.

—Messrs. N. M. Rothschild & Sons will doubtless watch with interest the discussion of the army bill. This discussion will be a crucial test of the sincerity of the promises of retrenchment. If congress in this discussion shows no disposition for adopting measures providing for the reduction of the army, specially of the number of officers, and for increasing its efficiency, there is little hope that those promises will be kept.

—It will be interesting to our São Paulo correspondent, Nicodemus Dewdrop, to know that the Times, of Buenos Aires, has found a very ingenious cure's nest in the Philippine question. If Spain is driven out, "an enormous army of priests and nuns" will be driven away from those rich pastures, and will surely come to Argentina. Something should be done to prevent the irrepressible Yankee from upsetting the world in this way.

—Among the Nile's passengers up from Buenos Aires last week we notice the name of Mr. Frank G. Carpenter, the well-known newspaper correspondent, who is making a journey around South America for a syndicate of American journals. He has made a long visit to Argentina, and is now giving his attention to Brazil. As he left the steamer at Manaus, he may not yet have arrived in Rio yesterday. We can not yet state what his plans are for Brazil.

—Our readers will be pleased to hear on the authority of Mr. T. C. Jackson, that although the actual balance sheet is not yet ready, the net amount realised for the Strangers' Hospital by the benefit at Frank Brown's circus amounts to 11,100$420. Good! If Rio had as many English speaking residents as Buenos Aires, we would run our kin in the River Plate close in generosity and benevolence. In proportion to our numbers we are excellent them.

—The floriantistas are complaining of the action of Capt. Raymundo de Souza, in causing to be removed from the barracks of the 1st company of the 22nd battalion of infantry, which he commands, the portraits of Marshal Floriano Peixoto and Col. Moreira Cesar. It seems to us that the complaints are unfounded. There is nothing in the army regulations, we believe, prohibiting such action, and neither the portraits nor the records of those two officers are of such a nature as to promote discipline and the development of soldierly qualities among military men.

—Mosquitoes are a great plague in hot climates, but experience in Mexico has proved that Condy's fluid is a sure preventive against the plague, neutralising the eggs, and deterring the grown insects from entering a room. Condy's fluid, as such, is not always obtainable but it is nothing more or less than the permanganate of potash which can be cheaply bought in any chemist's shop, in crystals. Permanganate of potash is one of the most useful disinfectants we have, and should be used in every house in Brazil. Where desodorisers are required, chloride of lime should be used.

—Last week it was once more reported that the floriantistas are plotting to depose President Prudente de Moraes. Under the present circumstances we regard this report as rather favorable than otherwise, since it seems to indicate the lack of an understanding between Campos Sales and the floriantistas. If such an understanding exists, there would seem to be no reason why the latter should be content to wait until the President-elect takes office. Consequently, believing as we do that President Prudente de Moraes is now better prepared to defend himself than he has ever been before, we look upon the reported plot as an encouraging symptom.

—The divorce bill now before congress is again agitating the public mind, and protests are heard in all directions. It is a curious circumstance that the idea of divorce is so repugnant to minds familiar with every species of conjugal immorality and infelicity. Divorce means simply the legal separation of people who can not live happily together. If it is refused, then the tie is only nominal and immoral results are sure to follow. But the puzzling feature of the case is that people who see a husband openly keeping up a second and illegal establishment, or a wife living with some other man, and all this without a word of complaint or protest, should be so deeply shocked at the idea of divorce. There's an unfathomable depth in hypocrisy and an unbounded breadth in humbug—but the hypocrites and the humbugs do not seem to realize it!

—Sinaiwy says he is now waiting for some senator or deputy to propose the deportation of the director of the Journal do Commercio, just as was done nearly two years ago in regard to the Times correspondent. On Saturday the Journal went for the illustrations representative of the nation in a very unparliamentary manner, accusing them of wasting the public funds in fruitless sessions, of holding scurrilous discourses (discursos mofinosos), of making dirty and indecent remarks (aportes pornographicos, indecentes), and, in the case of one senator, of holding morning confabulations with his servant and cook which he is accustomed to repeat to his colleagues. On the following day the Journal reminds the 1st secretary of the chamber that it has outlived the anger of men of larger calibre than himself. All of which, says Sinaiwy, is so personal and belonging to the two houses of congress, that nothing short of expulsion can possibly soothe their wounded feelings. "Of course," says Sinaiwy, "I would not have my illustrious friend Rodrigues expelled from the country, and for exactly the same reason that he did not wish to have the Times correspondent deported; but on the other hand I can't help feeling that certain deputies ought to propose it, just to be consistent!" But possibly the distinction between them makes the difference!

—The Salesian Fathers at the Santa Rosa industrial school in Niteroi have sent a collecting card in aid of that admirable institution. We are too busy to make any attempt at personal collection, but if any of our charitable readers who know of the splendid history of D. Bosco—and to know is to reverence—wish to contribute any sum from 100 reis upwards in support of the truly great work his disciples are carrying on amongst orphan children, rescuing them from the evil of the streets, teaching them to be honest upright men, and industrious useful artisans, we shall be only too glad to receive a call from them and prick off their contributions on the card in our office. We wish that we could as sincerely recommend every charitable institution in our midst as heartily as we can that deputation ought to propose it, just to be consistent! But possibly the distinction between them makes the difference!

ESTIL. — On the 10th inst. at Cosme Velho, Laranjeiras, the wife of Harry G. Estil, of a son.

—That most inquisitorial and iniquitous customs regulation of restricting the personal baggage of American tourists to a certain value, is naturally causing confusion and complaint. It was made by a few cranks, who, like Jerry Simpson, think a man's personal outfit should be of the most meagre description, and they have therefore fixed the limit where a traveller in Europe can not carry a decent outfit without incurring import duties on his return home. Such laws are a disreputable to any country claiming to be liberal and enlightened.

The First College for Women: Memories and Recollections of Work Done: 1848-1898. By M. A. Lewis. London, 1898. An interesting sketch of Queen's College, London, which has just completed its first half-century. It was a great innovation in 1848, as the advocates of a higher education for women were not so numerous and influential as now. The experiment has succeeded and has been followed by many much more ambitious institutions, but the pioneer college is still plodding along in its own chosen path, honored and loved by those whom it has instructed, and respected by all who have been permitted to watch its American Journal, writing from Manchester, states that, with a view to discover whether there is not something to be said on the other side, he recently sent an article on this subject, containing specific information, to a large number of representative manufacturers of various branches, and invited them to express their opinions, which would be widely circulated in the countries with which he is connected. At the same time he placed at their disposal a mass of information bearing on the requirements of the Latin-American markets. He now writes: "It may surprise the public to learn that not a single response has been made to this communication."—Textile Mercury.

At the aforesaid meeting, the following resolutions were immediately upon the passing of the agreements entered into by the shareholders of the companies mentioned above:

1. That the London Platino-Brazilian Company, Limited, and the Western and Brazilian Telegraph Company, Limited, every shareholder of the Western and Brazilian Telegraph Company, Limited, and the Platino Company may exchange their shares for fully-paid shares in the Brazilian Submarine Telegraph Company, Limited; of management, it is suggested that directors from this company shall join the board of the Western and Brazilian Telegraph Company and of the Platino Company, and that directors of the Western and Brazilian Telegraph Company shall join the board of this company.

2. That the united boards shall continue in office for one year.

3. Some modifications in the articles of association may be required to enable these arrangements to be carried out. Resolutions for affecting which will be submitted to the meeting as shown in the accompanying notice. The agreement is conditional on members of the Western and Brazilian Telegraph Company holding at least three-fourths of the share capital, excluding their shares for shares in this company. Financial News, July 20.

— The state government of Rio Grande do Sul has had its revenue stamps printed in Europe, and when they came out recently the minister of finance refused to permit them to pass the national custom-house without paying duties. Quite right! It's a complicated business, but we see no good reason why exceptions should be made in favor of the states.

August 13.—The official rate with all the banks was 7 1/4 d throughout the day. The market was very calm and little business was done. The banks drew only at 7 1/4 d in the morning, but with little confidence at 7 1/2 d in the afternoon. Banks bills were quoted during the day at 7 1/4 and 7 1/2 d, and private paper at 7 1/2 d and 7 1/4 d. The official value of the milreis was 250 reis equal.

SEA SICKNESS

25 cases were treated on board the "Olin da" by Dr. Ernani Pinto with Tinture of Neotandra and of these, 22 cases were completely cured, and the remaining four became much better.

The illustrious naval surgeon Dr. Henrique Manguen says that during voyages on coast of war L. have had occasion to use Tinture of Neotandra Amara of Mr. Antero Leivas against sea sickness and always with excellent results.

Numberless testimonials of travellers justify the results obtained by these distinguished physicians, with the Tinture and pills of the Neotandra Amara against sea-sickness.

In order to facilitate the use of this medicine a prospectus accompanies each bottle written in the Portuguese, English and French languages.

N.B. The Neotandra Amara pills are formulated with the same doses of the Neotandra, in order that they may be sent by post all over the world with the least possible delay to supply the want of the Wine, Elixir and Tinture of Neotandra Amara, which are liquid and cannot, therefore, be transported by the same rapid and sure means.

For sea sickness, nausea in pregnancy, impoverishment of blood, weakness of the legs, and convalescence after long and serious illness, the pills should be ground and dissolved in a small glass of Port wine in order that they may be taken as a liquid to insure a prompt action; it is also to facilitate for adults and children who cannot take dry pills, and in this case they can be dissolved in pure water if no wine is to be had.

Persons who have no connections here and who may desire to have these most useful pills can obtain them by applying direct to the proprietors who undertake to remit orders by registered post to any part of Brazil, or abroad for the small sum of 25800 per box, 125600 for 3 and 205800 for 12 boxes.

NECTANDRA AMARA

The discovery of this wonderful product of the Brazilian flora has furnished a powerful and efficacious remedy not only for sea-sickness, but also for the nausea felt in pregnancy and that which results from the motion of the train on railways, as well as for such diseases of the stomach and bowels as require a good tonic, car-minative, diuretic or regulator for promoting menstruation.

The «Nectandra Amara» Pills are prepared with all scientific precautions for their perfect preservation and are put up in strong boxes, so that they may be forwarded by post in filling orders from all parts of the world. They are accompanied with printed directions in three languages —Portuguese, English and French—so that their therapeutic effects and the manner of taking them may be readily understood.

All orders addressed to the manufacturer, accompanied by the money and the postoffice address of the applicant, will be promptly filled, and the pills will be forwarded, registered by post, at the following rates:—Per single box, 25$000; per half dozen boxes, 125$000; per dozen boxes 20$800.

Address of manufacturer:—Joachim Bueno de Miranda, Rua de S. Pedro, N. 74, 1.º andar, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

THE RIO NEWS.

This paper is now in its 35th year, having originally been published as The South American Mail and The Brazilian and American Mail. It assumed its present title at the beginning of April, 1872, when it was published three times a month. From a tri-monthly it has been changed to a weekly publication, and from four pages it has been increased to twelve.

As an advertising medium The News occupies an exceptionally advantageous position. It circulates widely throughout Brazil, and also in Europe and the United States. Its subscribers are principally business men interested in Brazilian trade, industries and investments. No other periodical, even with much larger circulation, can offer better inducements to advertisers who seek the attention of these classes.

All communications should be addressed to the Editor and Publisher, Caixa do Correio 258, Rio de Janeiro.

No encomendas of any description will be received at the Company's offices.

For passages and information apply to the office of

LAGE IRMÃOS,
